| COMMUNICATED. An opportunity having been presented to hear from many citizens from different parts of this Congressional District, since the anpouncement of Mr. Shackelford, it seems to be generally understood that if Mr. Shackelford and Mr. Smith continue to be candielford and will be no other candidate in the feld; certainly none started by the Whigs and Americans. This fact does not, howerer, lessen the wisdom of the advice not prematurely to pledge votes to either of the prematiemen named. A Whig candidate, every way acceptable, may present himself, and his friends ought not to withhold from him their support.
